

Lonergan University College

announces a Public Lecture

Gandhi and Women

to be given by

T.S. Rukmani

T.S. Rukmani holds the Chair of Hindu Studies in the Religion Department of Concordia. She has published seven books on Indian thought and has been active in Women's Studies. This public lecture is being given in conjunction with Lonergan College's year-long seminar on the Works of Mahatma Gandhi (LUCC 399)

Prof. Rukmani will lead a followup seminar on Thursday, February 8, 10:00 a.m.

at
Lonergan College
7302 Sherbrooke St. W.
Room 206

For information call:
848-2280

"If only women will forget that they belong to the weaker sex, I have no doubt that they can do infinitely more than men against war."

M.K. Gandhi

"Gandhi was a champion of the political and social emancipation of women; his voice was raised against the tyranny of the purdah, the inequity of child marriage, the ban on widow remarriage, and indeed against everything which cramped Indian womanhood. He roused India's women to a sense of their own dignity and power."

B.R. Nanda

Wednesday, February 7, 1996

7:00 p.m.

D.B. Clarke Theatre

Hall Building

1455 de Maisonneuve W.

Bishop Street Entrance

Concordia
UNIVERSITY